6th BioProScale Symposium – Online

Scale-up and scale-down for accelerated bioprocess development and optimisation

29 TO 31 MARCH 2021, ONLINE EVENT

Three-day online symposium about industrial scale bioprocess intensification from process development to large-scale understanding

 www.biopro-scale-conference.org

 VENUE: VLB VIRTUAL CAMPUS (ONLINE EVENT)

Sponsoring & Virtual Exhibition

■ Event format

Due to the uncertain further development of the global Covid-19 pandemic, the 6th BioProScale Symposium in 2021 will be held as a 100 % online event.

All presentations will be held via a video conference system which is linked to our professional virtual event platform "VLB Virtual Campus". This platform offers extensive opportunities for exhibition, sharing information and networking.

■ Target groups

People from industry and academia involved in bioprocess development, scale-up and scale-down for the production of pharmaceuticals, bulk and fine chemicals, food and feed. Providers of (single-use) bioreactor systems across various scales, sensors for process monitoring, software tools and lab automation. People who deal with questions about feedstock flexibility, circular bioeconomy, sustainability of bioproduction.

■ Topics

Industrial-scale bioprocessing and scale-down
Bioprocesses for a circular economy
High-throughput bioprocessing and automation
Process analytical technologies (PAT)

■ Organisers

Technische Universität Berlin –
Department of Bioprocess Engineering

in cooperation with

Institute for Biotechnology and Fermentation in Berlin (IfGB)

■ Conference days

29-31 March 2021 (2 concurrent online sessions each day)

■ Location

Online event

■ Language

Congress language is English.
No translation will be provided.

■ Accompanying exhibition

The rate for a virtual booth includes the basic graphic design and 1 or 2 full registrations.

Our systems tracks nearly all activities inside the platform. Statistics about who has "entered" your booth or about the activities (e.g. downloads, clicked links) will be provided.

The platform will be open to all attendees 24 h from 29 March to 6 April.
